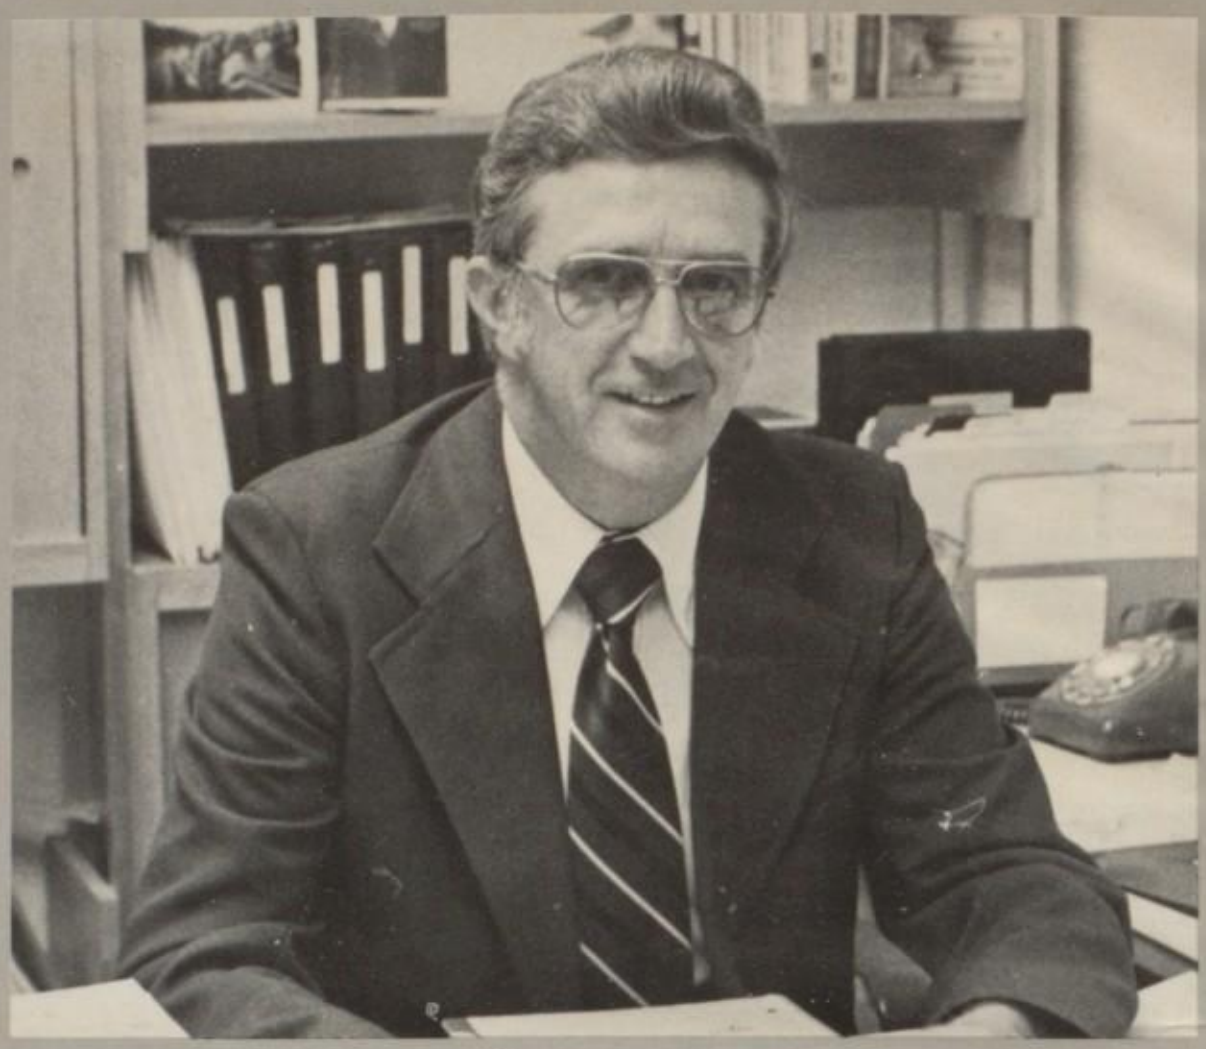
A Word From The Captain



Your high school days, even though they are but a small segment of your life, are an extremely important part of your life. Many years from now you will be fondly remembering your days and nights at Oxon Hill and reminiscing about your experiences as a student at our fine school.

The traditions and the activities which we have at our school are an important part of the proud history which we speak of so fondly to our families and friends. The people that you meet and make friends with during your very brief years with us will probably be your friends for life, teachers as well as classmates.

I sincerely hope that your yearbook will be something that you will keep and cherish so that you can recall your days at Oxon Hill.

It is my fondest wish that we have shared with you the same pride we have of our school and that we have helped you to get the necessary education that is needed to make our world a better place.

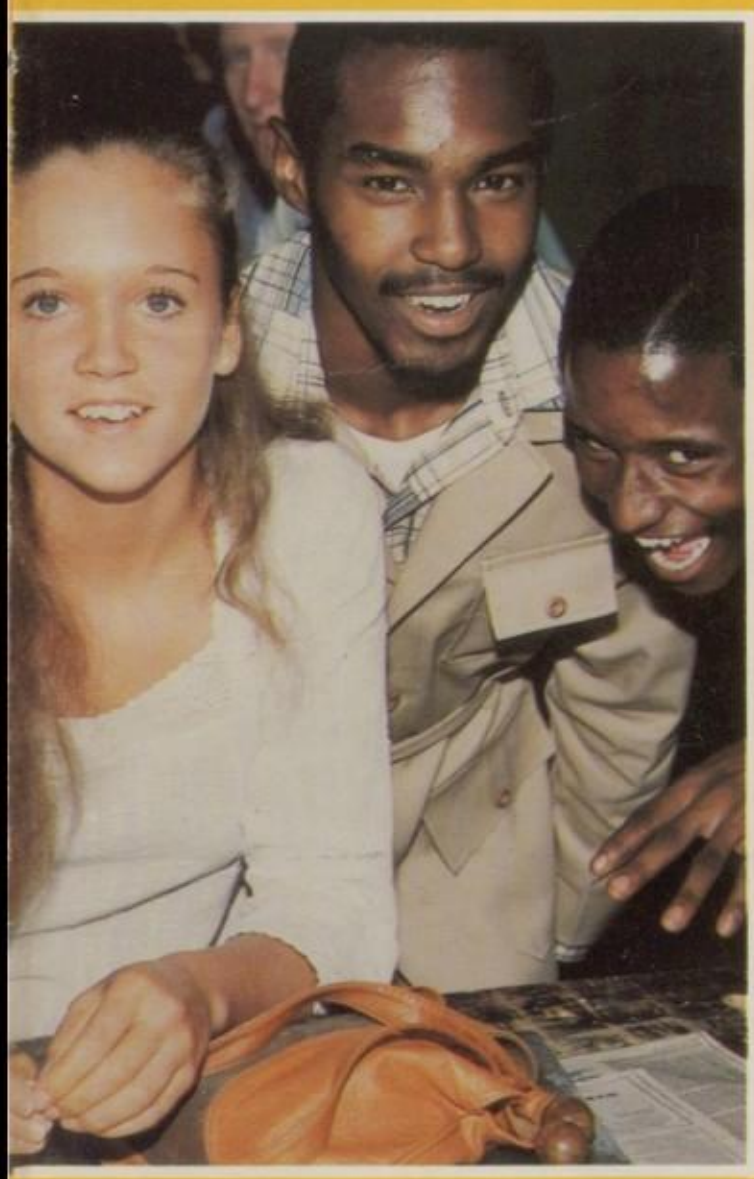
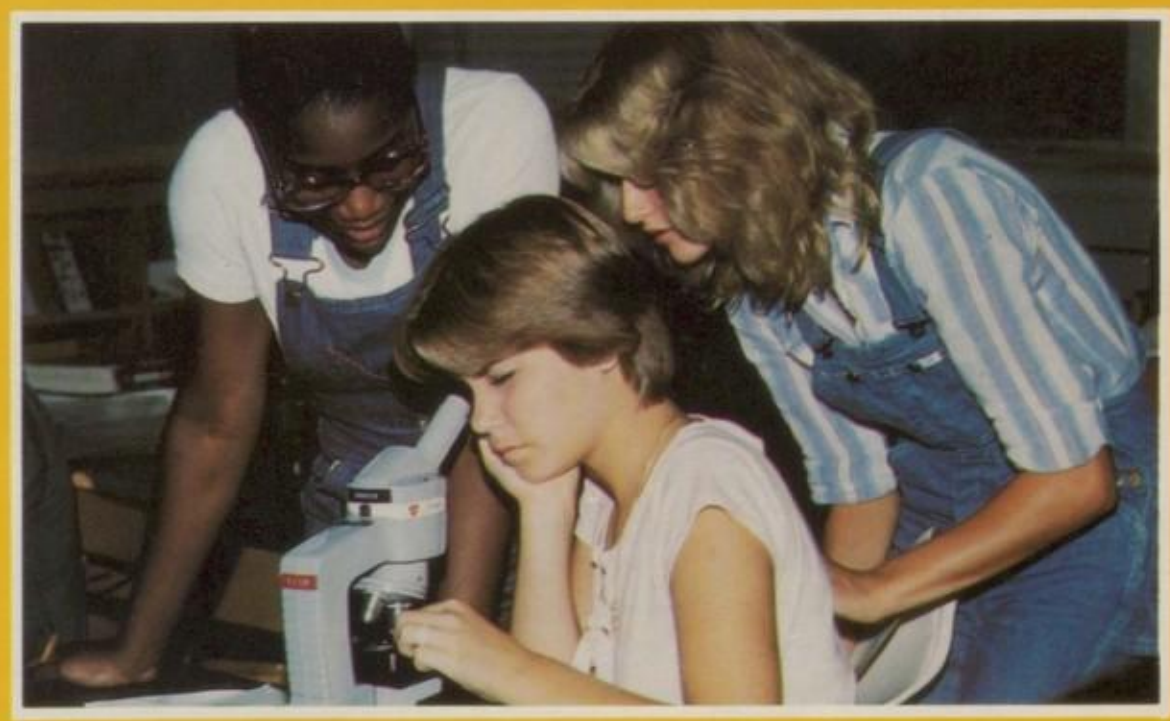
Looking Back



Oxon Hill High School has been through the sock-hops of the fifties, the peace demonstrations of the sixties, but never anything like the fabulous seventies. A review of the seventies would reveal the changes in lifestyle, habit, and of course those of the typical Oxon Hill student. The graduating class of 1970 was composed of the products of the 1960's; a myriad collection running the gamut from hippies, yippies, and flower children, to the so-called "square".



Living Everyday

The class of 1979 presents a different picture than was seen at the beginning of the decade. These graduates reflect expanded freedom compared to the past. They have had the opportunity to make their own choices, some of which may play important roles in their future. The students of the seventies display open minds and searching curiosities. Certainly they set a foundation of strong enthusiasm for the class of 1980 to build on and for other classes to follow.

Homecoming '78
Tops The Rest Of The 70's

Oxon Hill held its Homecoming this year on October 14th. The week preceding the game was full of fun and good Spirit. The decorating of the halls, the building of the floats, and the spirit chain were all part of the fun. The Seniors won all three events with the Jrs. coming in a close second, and the Soph, bringing up the rear with a good fight.

Terri Davis, the 1977 Homecoming Queen, ended her reign by crowning Cheryl Hendrickson the new Queen. The other Sr. princesses were Tina Tompros, Becky Cowens, Michele Humphries, and Diana Walczak. The Jr. Princesses were Erin Shover, Joy O'neil, Colleen Hopkins, and Diane Yeldell, while the Sophomores were Shelly Jones, Cindy Biondi, and Michele Padama.

We Made The Headlines!

The Homecoming game against our greatest rival, Friendly Senior High, was one we will all long remember. Friendly, going into the game with an undefeated record, did not leave the Clipper's ground that way. The Clippers held strong throughout the game with the defense performing like never before, and at the end of regulation time the score was tied seven all. The game proceeded into overtime with Oxon Hill winning the toss and giving Friendly the ball. Under Maryland high school football rules, both teams are given four downs to score starting from the 10 yard line. If the score remains the same or both teams score again after the first overtime period, the teams continue to play another format until one team outscores the other, which in this case Oxon Hill did. Brian Kingsbury kicked a field goal from twenty yards out, tieing the score for the second time. The final play of the game was a run from the 3rd yard line by Troy Island. With Troy's touchdown the crowd became ecstatic! This marked the first time Oxon Hill had ever defeated Friendly since the neighborhood school had opened eight years ago. Certainly this was the "perfect Homecoming".

Making The Day A Success

The dance that night, "Octoberfest," was a great success. The winning feeling was still in the air and the students enjoyed the sounds of Highway Star.

The '78 Homecoming was one of the most successful Oxon Hill has ever experienced with the winning of the game and the atmosphere of the dance, it had been a Homecoming many will never forget.

Activities

In The Beginning . . .

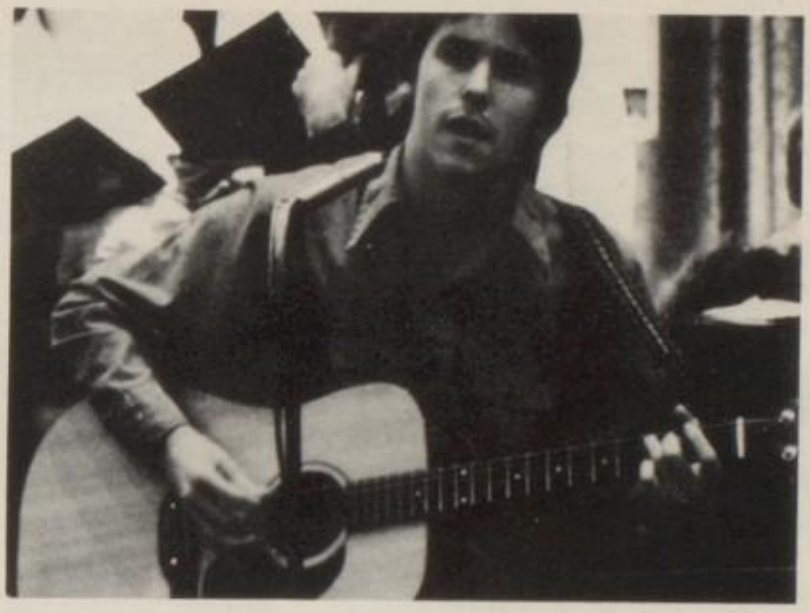
There was Black and Gold. This first dance of the year brought Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores together to mingle and move to the beat of Reflections. This annual dance is sponsored by the Varsity Cheerleaders and was held on September 8, 1978. This particular Friday night found the walls of the Multi-Purpose Room embracing a crowd of enthusiastic Clippers. Whether they danced, talked, or just stood around, all of the students seemed to enjoy themselves at what turned out to be a dance to remember.

80's Rings

The excitement that surrounds the arrival of class rings for the juniors culminates in one night at the traditional ring dance. The class of 1980 held its ring dance on Friday, November 3, 1978. Machine-Gun-Sly provided the music for the Juniors to turn on by and, despite swollen fingers and blisters, the Juniors turned on and on and on in search of that important 80th turn. A class ring is a symbol of pride, spirit, and unity and each junior that received a ring will proudly display this coveted example of hard fought for achievement.

Making

Music



The band opened its 1978-1979 performing year on the 16th of November with the Pops Concert. The band repeated this performance on the 17th so all of the students, faculty, and parents could have a chance to attend. Mr. Johnson, the band's director, led the band in its successful performance while the audience sat back and enjoyed an excellent show. The concert was lively, and energetic; and the rhythm enticed many people to tap their feet to the beat. The enthusiastic audience along with the fantastic Clipper band was a combination that provided the Pops Concert with fine music and lots of fun.

Tongue Twisters

On November 15, 1978 OH's top language students were honored by being inducted into the French, Spanish and German Honor Societies. An overall B average in his or her specific language was required of each inductee. Mr. David Beckman, the guest speaker, related his experiences in world travel to the importance of learning a foreign language. The list of inductees included sixteen French students (center right), eight Spanish students (top right), and one German student, Virginia Reicker (below).

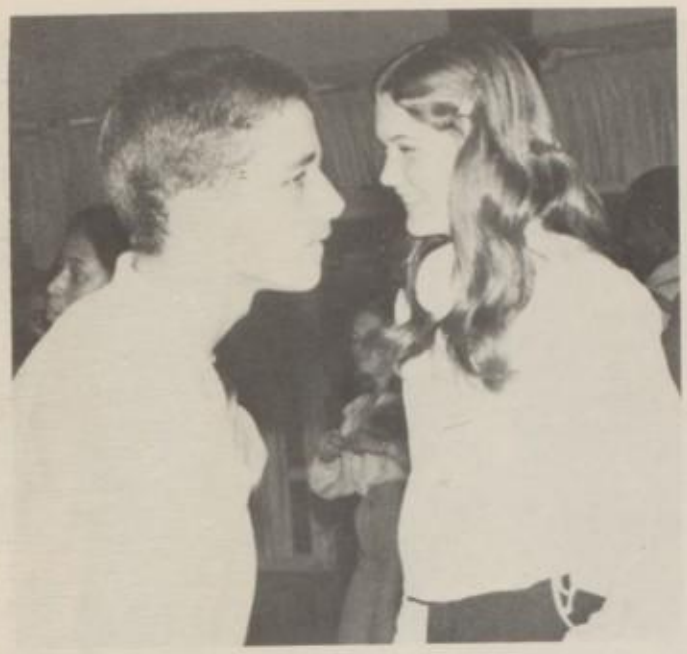
Winter Warm-up



The winter Disco was meant for those with dancing in their souls. Although the turn out for the dance was relatively small, those who attended agreed that the dance was the best one ever held at Oxon Hill. Sound Tech. provided the music and the light show that gave the MPR a touch of disco fever. Thd dancers hustled, rocked, and freaked to the beat as the disco lights danced across the room. The dance was sponsored by the SGA, which worked especially hard to make the winter dance a success.

Seniors

The senior class play, "Watch the Stars" was held on December 20, amid the rush and excitement of the week before Christmas. In spite of a few problems, the play was a great success due to the hard work and long practices endured by the cast. The exceptional members of the Senior class who were in the cast combined their individual personalities to make every practice fun and each of the three performances unique. The seniors are to be congratulated for turning a Christmas comedy into a play which relied on the extreme importance of "Being what you are and doing what you do." Hat's off to the Senior Class.

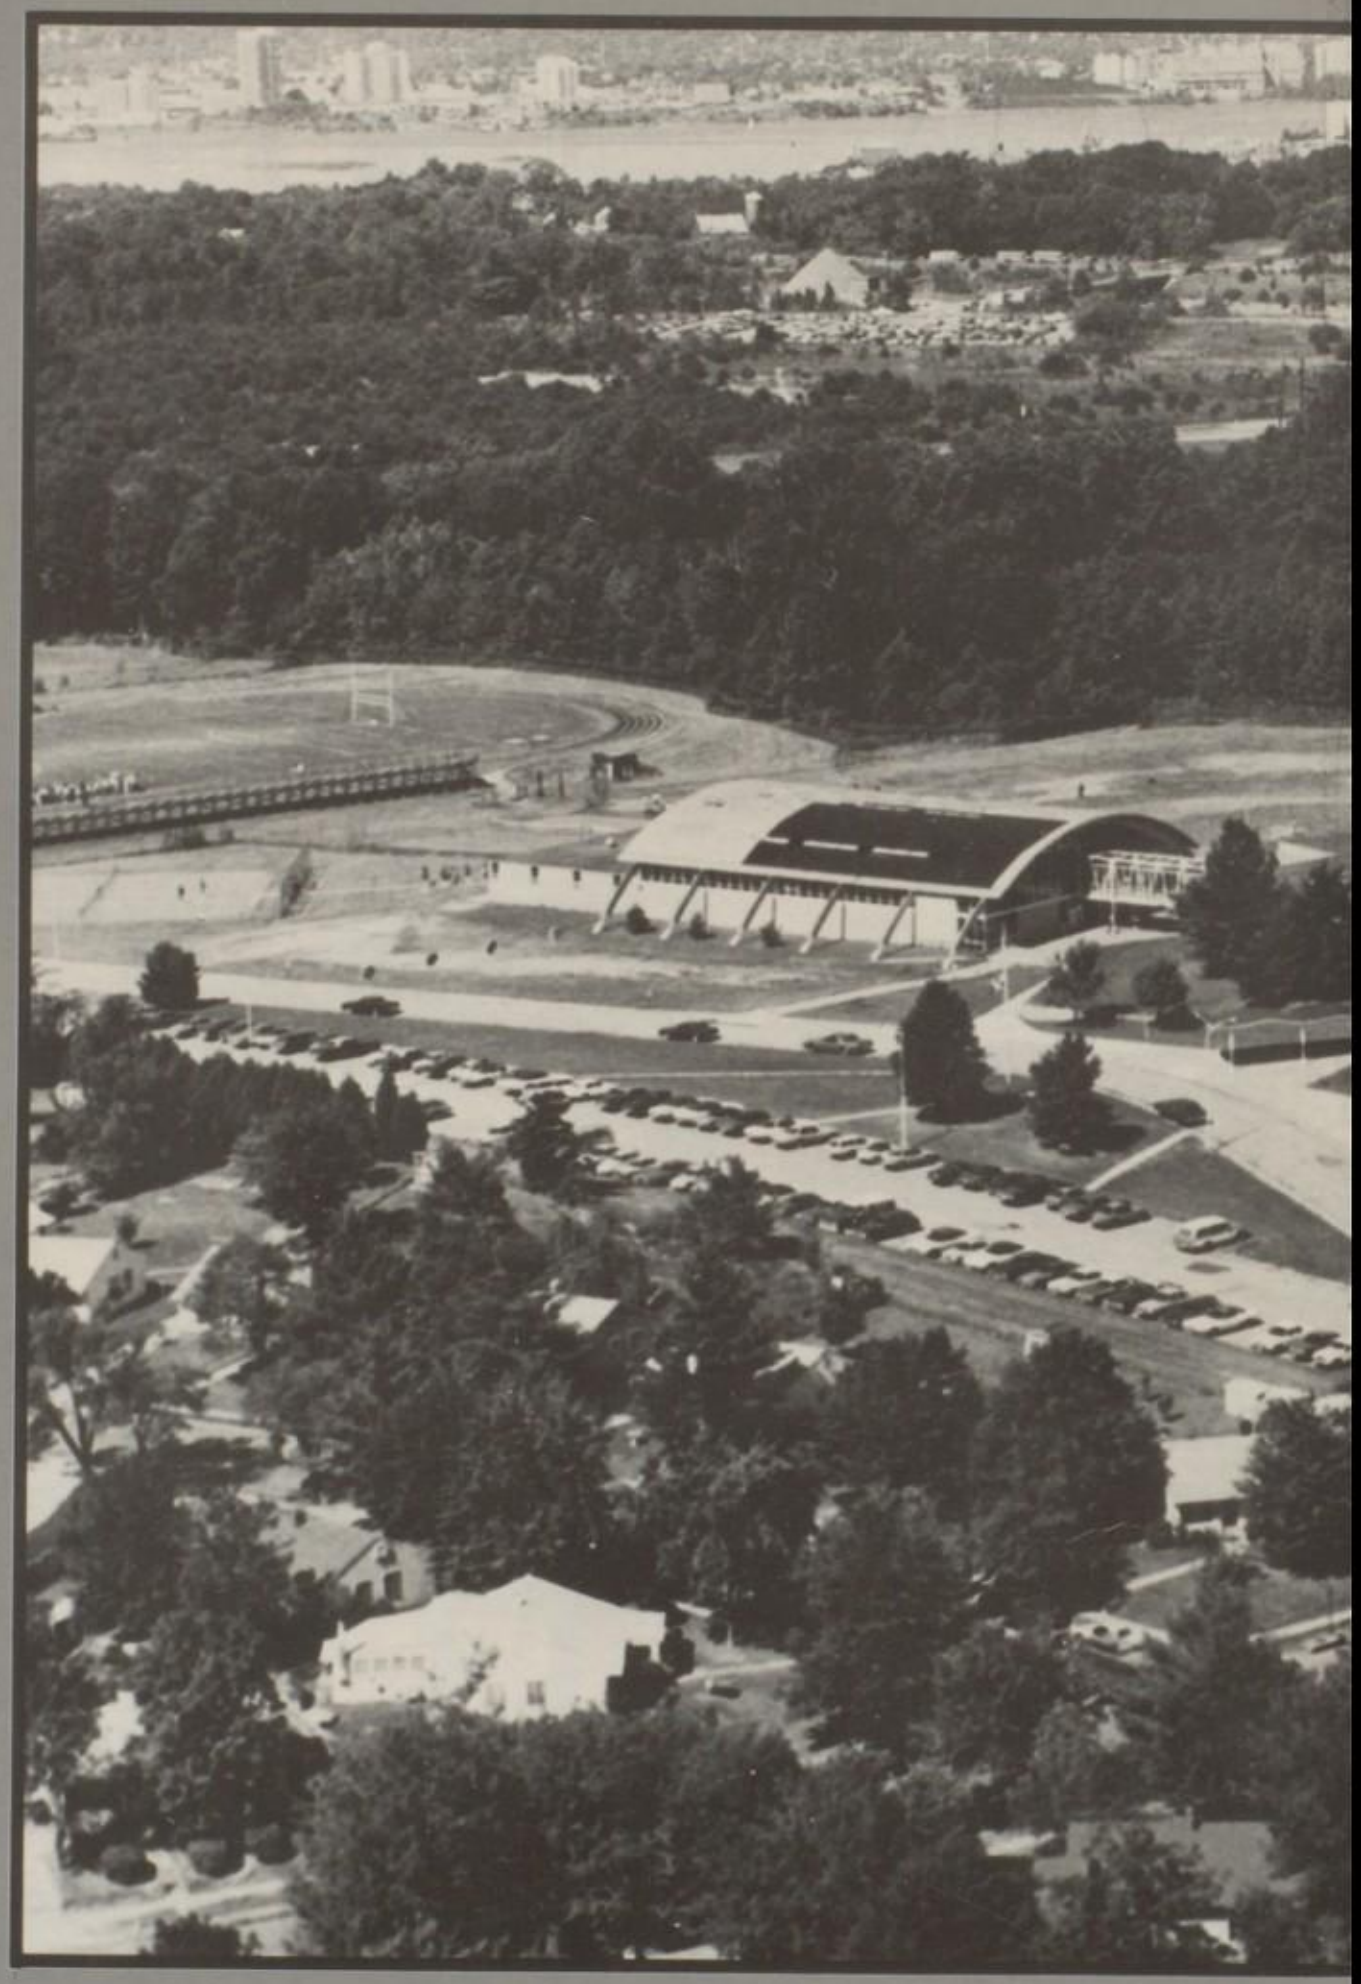
The Stars

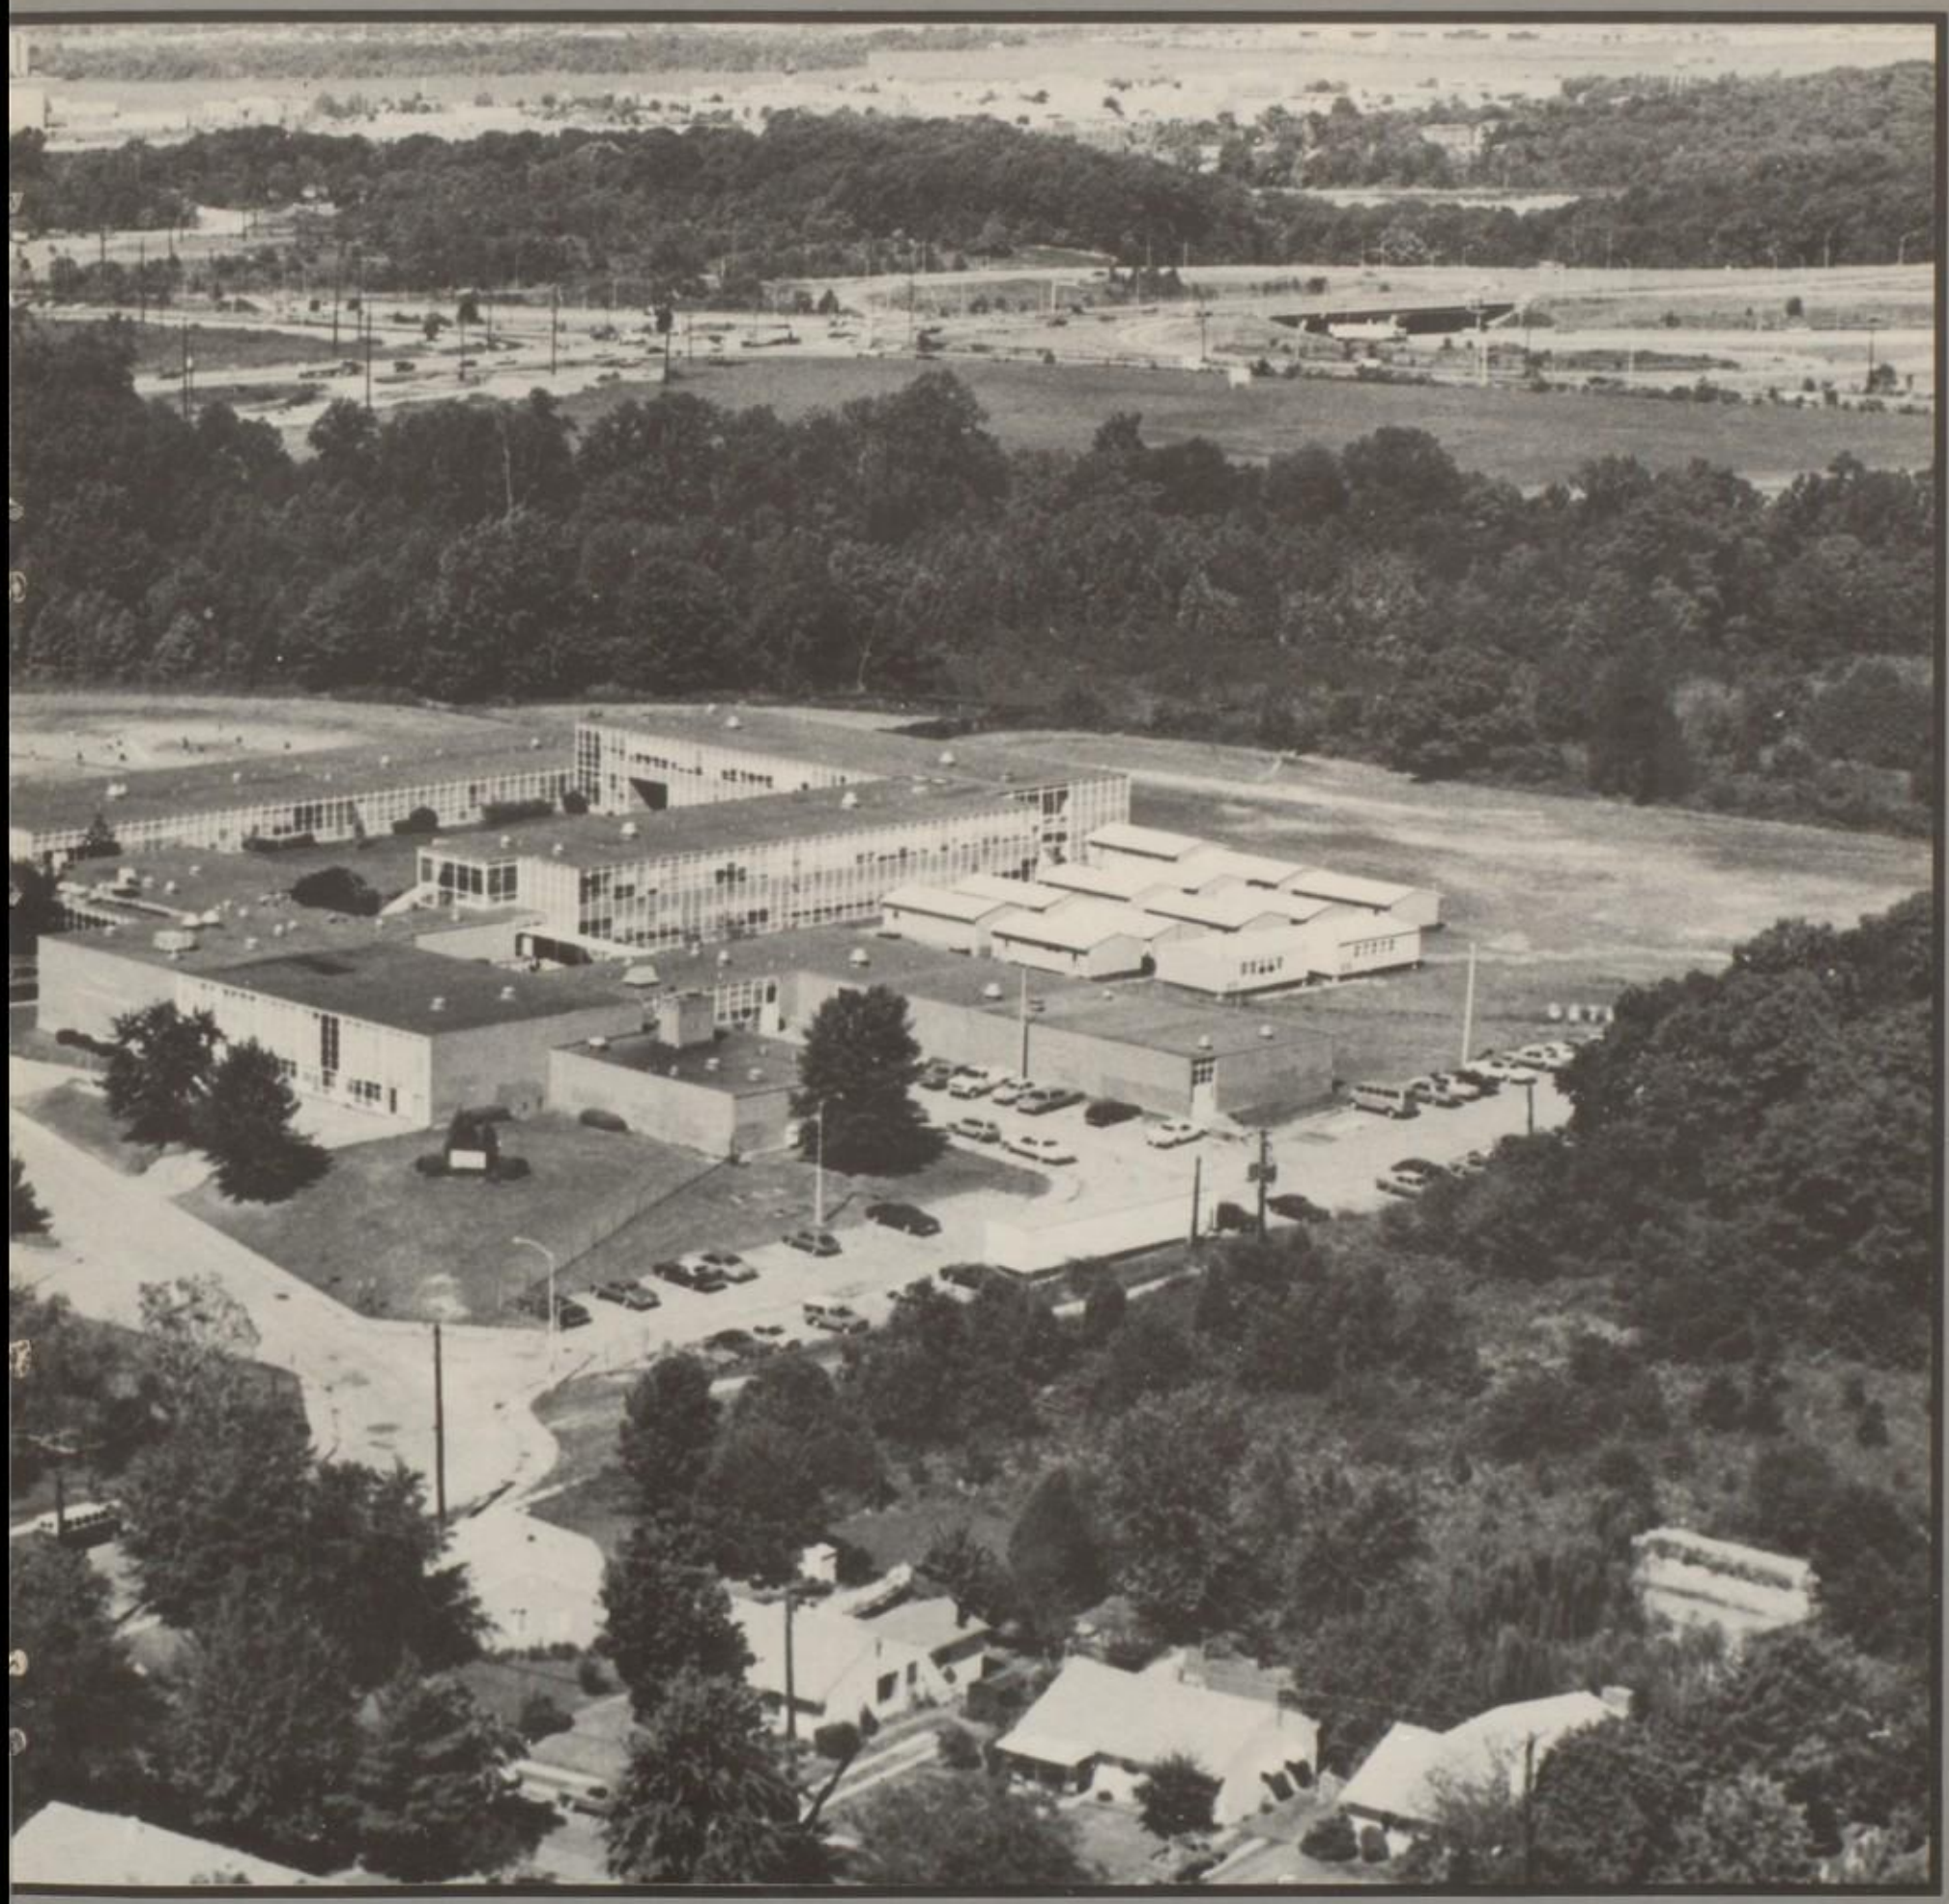
Holiday Tunes

The day before Christmas vacation, December 22, was a busy day of excitement, for all of the students of Oxon Hill Senior. The Holiday concert added to the excitement of that day. The band and concert choir combined their talents into one performance consisting of traditional Christmas music. The band played festive musical selections to put everyone in the mood for the upcoming Holiday. The concert Choir entertained the audience through music performed in solo, duo, and combined Choral selections. This Holiday concert revealed the many hidden musical talents possessed by Oxon Hill students and was an activity enjoyed by both faculty and students.

In Come the FBLA

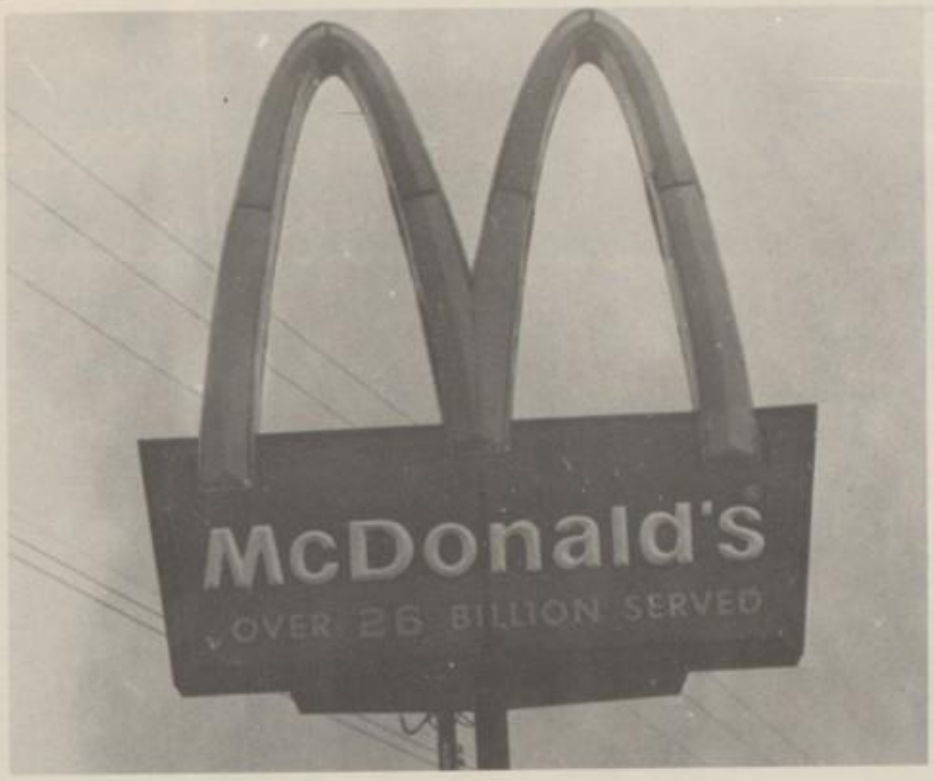
Here is Oxon Hill Senior High School as it stands in 1979. For the past twenty years this has been the daily atmosphere for high school students in this area. However, the closing of the decade of the 70's shows this scene for the last time. With the new decade will come a physical change to our alma mater. The Prince George's County School Board intends to turn Oxon Hill into a Southern area technological center. This plan calls for the physical expansion of our present facilities. Certainly, with such improvements Oxon Hill will continue to stand out in this suburban community of the nation's capital.





PONTIAC

Stepping Out Into The Community



Many things happen around the teen-age years. For many, it's a drivers license, first date, or the realization that graduation is nearing. But more importantly, this is usually the time when many students get their first glimpse of the real world by acquiring part-time jobs. These jobs accomplish two objectives which are not taught in the classroom. Youth learn how to work efficiently and how to undertake responsibility. Also, in this way Oxon Hill students become more involved in the community.

Coach Pearson, in his first year at Oxon Hill, turned a struggling football program into a respected power. The Clippers started the season with a disappointing loss at Northwood. They crushed Lackey one week later in the first home game, then suffered a setback against St. Albans. But the setback was only temporary. In the fourth game, the Clippers stomped on Douglass and demolished Central in the fifth.

By the time Homecoming rolled around, Oxon Hill was on the move. Nothing, not even the undefeated Friendly Patriots, was going to stop the Clippers from sailing to victory. Before an enthusiastic crowd, the opponents battled to a 7-all tie at the end of regulation play. The first period of overtime proved to be useless as each team scored a field goal. Then in the second overtime, halfback Troy Island got the ball over the goal line for six points. Oxon Hill was victorious. The Clippers were the only team to defeat Friendly, and they did it in an exciting game. The only bright spot in the last three games was an impressive victory over Roosevelt.

The soccer team under Coach Jones enjoyed a successful season. Captains Carl Fletcher, John Wyrick and Richard Cliff led the team to a record of 7-4-1 which was enough for a second place league finish and a berth in the state playoffs. Even though the team outplayed Meade in the state, it lost by a score of 2 goals to 1 in the second overtime.

Post season honors were received by Carl Fletcher (All-County and Second Team All-Met), John Wyrick (All-County), Richard Cliff and Rick Deperio (Second Team All-County) and Mike Thomas (Honorable Mention, County).

In the four years soccer has been played at Oxon Hill, the teams have averaged 3 goals to our opponents' two.

Despite fierce competition, the Clippers' cross country team breezed to a season finish of 632 wins and 32 losses. While winning 95% of their races, the speedy Clippers were able to gain 21 first place finishes and perfect team results in Southern Maryland Invitational, Spingarn Invitational and Double Dual Championships. Oxon Hill raced against teams from five states and District of Columbia. The girls' and boys' A teams placed 3rd and 5th in the state making them second best varsity team in the state. Coaches Buckley and Irvine, who train the girls' A and B as well as boys' A, B, and C teams, run the finest cross country high school program in the state.

Running in Circles

Powered by a strong distance team from cross country and an exceptional sprint team, the Clippers were able to have a successful track season. Coaches Irvine and Buckley brought their team to highly competitive meets such as the CYO Invitational, Naval Academy Invitational, District and several all-comer meets where Oxon Hill performed very well. Both the girl's and Boy's teams placed fourth in the District Meet at the University of Maryland and a total of nine Clippers qualified for the State Meet.

Welcome Aboard!

Girls' junior varsity basketball, which was just added to OHHS this year, created a great amount of spirit and support for the varsity. Not every school has a JV program, therefore the team couldn't play all of the time, but when they did play, the girls showed great enthusiasm and potential under Coach Porter.

In past years, the team with the league's best record would move onto District, but this year the system was made much more competitive with the four top teams competing for the State Finals. Oxon Hill's leading scorers were Tina Maddox and Joan Goetze while the leading rebounders included Ann Goetze, Joan Goetze, and Janet Smith.

Varsity cheerleaders form a pyramid.

The J.V. Cheerleaders were chosen from a group of sophomore girls who tried out at the beginning of the school year. The squad practices long hours and works hard at all junior varsity events to cheer on the J.V. teams. The squad follows in the footsteps of the varsity cheerleaders — running through the halls shouting cheers before school on the day of a game.

The high-spirited Oxon Hill Varsity Cheerleaders jump, kick, and shout their hearts out to promote school spirit. The squad devotes many of their free hours to after-school practice and spends at least three evenings a week during basketball season cheering for games. Homecoming and Spirit Week are sponsored by the cheerleaders. During this season, each girl lives and breathes the life of a total cheerleader. Yet, no matter how tired they might be, the cheerleaders are always able to greet a Clipper challenge with a rush of enthusiasm.

The Pep Club greeted its second year as an organization with overflowing spirit. The club assists the cheerleaders and Clipperettes by inspiring "pep" in the students. The members work hard to learn school cheers so they can help arouse the fans at games or rallies.

The OHHS Clipperettes form a pom-pon squad that the Clippers can be proud of. The girls practice before and after school to perfect their original routines. When the routines are set to music, the Clipperettes provide an excellent show. The squad performs at all home football and basketball games with zest and coordination. This team inspires spirit in OH students every day through the aid of the "Home of the Clippers" sign which they donated.

The Symphonic Band (opposite page) is an absolute necessity during football season. Its spirited melodies inspire enthusiasm and provide enjoyment for the spectators. The band also plays for assemblies, parades, and concerts. Mr. Johnson, the director, has led the band to regional festivals. Each student at Oxon Hill feels pride for our band when the instruments boldly ring out the tones of our Alma Mater or the Clipper Fight Song.

The members of the Concert Band work hard on their objective to improve and to perfect their musical skills. The goal of this work is to acquire instrumental capability and to gain familiarity with all aspects of music.

Creativity In Motion

The Modern Dance group is a creative group of girls who produce original dances as a means of recreation. The girls choreograph their own routines set to their own choice of music. The Modern Dance Club creatively expresses itself through its performances. They are interested in giving a complete program of modern and creative dance to the student body. Last year, the club presented an evening of dance that was quite a success.

Members of the Modern Dance club rehearse for their upcoming presentation of modern and creative dances.

Tumble-Time At OHHS

Modern Dance members insist that this is the only way to travel!

In the last Olympics, something happened that had never happened before. Nadia Comaneci scored a perfect ten in gymnastics. Well, we may not have any "Nadia's" here at OHHS, but Oxon Hill has always prided itself on the talent and performance of its Gymnastics Club. The Annual Gymnastics Show is one that both faculty and students enjoy viewing. The work that the students invest in practice is proven in the performance of their intricate routines.

Lights! Camera! Action!

There's no business like show business, and there would be no show business at Oxon Hill Senior without the Stage Crew. The crew takes care of all the technical aspects of a production at OHHS. The lighting and sound systems used during a performance are manned by the Stage Crew. Skill, coordination, and genuine ability are the requirements for each member of this important organization.

J. Houle, B. Rachau, M. Harvey — captain, C. Fultz, M. Hephner

Action is what you will get if you go to the School Store to purchase your school supplies. The store sells everything from bumper-stickers to buttons. Why, they even sell pencils and erasers! These industrious workers provide Oxon Hill Senior with all the materials necessary for classroom use.

The Concert Choir is one of those clubs who is constantly singing to the tune of success. They perform at various school activities such as PTA and graduation. The Christmas Concert and the Spring Concert are two of their most popular events. The Concert Choir, who also sings at other schools, can always be depended on when a vocal group is needed.

A group of students who are interested in putting some soul into musical performances at Oxon Hill have formed the Gospel Choir. This newly formed organization performs at concerts along with the band and the Concert Choir. The group sings gospel songs in a manner that is sure to be a huge success at OHHS.

This year's Drama Club had a few problems getting their act together, but once they got started, the Drama Club really put on a few good shows. All of their problems started with their search for a good sponsor, which they found in Ms. Tamany, the drama teacher. These talented students are interested in all aspects of the stage. The Drama Club learns acting, directing, staging, costuming, and even advertising! However, all the hard work means nothing when measured against the satisfaction they receive as performers. The many happy audiences of Oxon Hill certainly appreciate the Drama Club's efforts.

The world is a stage, even if it is only a truck, and the Drama Club performs atop its Homecoming float.

Thinks Snow And Ice

The Hockey Club is still a fairly new organization at OHHS. Up until a year ago, the members were playing informal games on their own. It was then that they decided to become a school-sponsored club. The team takes on all challengers — other schools, alumni, and faculty — as well as playing against each other. The admission is free to all home games at Tucker Road ice skating rink. Both the price of the game and the team are hard to beat!

Thinking snow and ice is one of the many activities which keep the popular Ski Club busy. One of the largest organizations at Oxon Hill, the Ski Club promises fun and excitement for all. Whether they are on the slopes risking life and limb, or on the lifts enjoying the view, or in the lodge enjoyin an open fire and a warm cup of cocoa, the members are always guaranteed a "natural" high.

Academically

The Math Team, sponsored by Mr. Roman, involves interested students in competitive computation. The members of the math team are some of the best Math students at Oxon Hill. There are about ten competitive meets during the year involving schools within the county. The team, led by captain Cindy Cousino, has gained both success and new friends at their meets.

Oxon Hill's It's Academic team brings together the best of the "Brains" to compete against other area schools at televised competitions. The beginning of the school year finds the team preparing for action — old members return and new members try out. When the team is complete, the members begin practicing in an effort to reign academically supreme in our area. No matter what the outcome, the team always puts up a good fight.

Speaking

Students who are interested in the field of science find an area of common interest in the Science Seminar Club. The members arrange field trips, special films, and guest speakers to enhance their knowledge. They also help the Science Department to sponsor the Annual Science Fair at Oxon Hill. Generally, the Science Seminar Club members enjoy their explorations into the world of science.

Debate Team concentrates on the art of communication. The team convenes twice a week to prepare for competitive meets. The Debate Team teaches students the skill of expressing themselves clearly. Students participating on this team are given the opportunity to develop the practice of addressing the public and of tactfully persuading one to their point of view.

Up In The Air

The AFROTC Model Rocket Club is an official Air Force club thats purpose is to acquaint the members with the science of rocketry. The members learn about the U.S. Space Program and the applications of space craft and rockets in the program. Cadets who are members can earn points toward a badge that is worn on their uniform signifying hard work and an understanding of the art of rocketry.

The Chess Club, whether the members are checking or mating, is a club which takes skill and intelligence. The Safety Squad is an organization that concerns itself with the safety of every individual at Oxon Hill. The members check the school for hazardous conditions and make sure each classroom is supplied with correct safety materials and directions in case of a fire. They are also responsible for monitoring fire drills (a difficult task if the fire alarm goes off unexpectedly).

Along with the onset of the seventies came an increasing awareness of our environment and the problems facing it. There is an organization at Oxon Hill known as the Ecology Club whose main concern is helping to improve the environment. The club helps with the Henson Creek water monitoring project and with the Chesapeake Bay improvement project. Besides working for the environment, the Ecology Club also enjoys interacting with nature through mountain climbing and horseback riding.

"The Whiz Kids"

The National Honor Society (NHS) is a nation-wide service organization. Students are inducted into this organization twice yearly. Requirements for initiation include an overall grade point average of 3.2 and service to the school. Initiated students show leadership, scholarship, knowledge, character, and service. The NHS provides a tutoring service for all students, guides parents on "Back-to-School" nights, sponsors a canned food drive, and organizes other service related activities.

NHS members earn money for their upcoming winter induction ceremony by having a bake sale.

Students enrolled in two or more business courses with a "B" average or better can join the Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA). This organization provides the business world of the future with better business leaders who are also conscientious workers. The FBLA is involved in area contests, regional contests, and national contests involving business subjects.

Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) provide practical experience for the student who wants to work and go to school at the same time. The DECA class provides basic knowledge for the student in various areas of marketing and distribution. This system encourages excellent working habits in the future leaders of certain business areas.

All Kinds Of Clippers

In the last decade, there has been an increase in the number of working mothers. As a result, less emphasis has been placed on homemaking. The Future Homemakers of America are doing something to revive this almost lost art. These students are interested in learning about home-life and how to run an efficient household. They also serve as hostesses and work in the community.

Not all people can be winners, but if you are a Clipper, you stand a better chance of becoming the best. The Lettermen (and women) are the best in their sports. The club is open to all students with athletic letters. Their performance on the field or court has earned them this honor.

Foreign Language honor students are recognized at the induction.

Foreign language students at Oxon Hill who are interested in understanding other cultures can join the International Club. Last year, club members produced an international cookbook which won the Maryland State Foreign Language Award. The club explores the culture of other countries by visiting international restaurants and by viewing international movies. This key to an international education is available after school in the language room.

Militarily Minded

Students who have an interest in a military career can join Maryland's 11th Air Force Jr. ROTC Unit to gain military training and exposure to aerospace study. The members may, at first, feel strange in their new uniforms, but they soon become accustomed to the military style. The cadets drill and take part in educational field trips and activities. The ROTC Ball and ROTC Review in the spring are both activities sponsored by the hard-working members of Oxon Hill's fine ROTC unit.

OHHS Future

Calvin Hawkins listens intently to the speaker.

SGA students attend an important meeting headed by Pat Dolan in the Media Center at OHHS.

Each student at OHHS has an effective way of voicing his or her opinions. This can be done through a representative to the SGA. The Student Government Association, sponsored by Ms. Dyrland and Ms. Bunce, is a very valuable part of the internal workings of OHHS. It is the voice of the students and can be used to change rules and policies to the better. The SGA has made many contributions to the school and community. Each year they host a Clean-Up Day, Winter Dance, and Activity Period.

Teacher

Every student at Oxon Hill would be stuck in the main office waiting for early departure slips if it weren't for office assistants. These busy students are always ready to help both students and teachers with business in the main office. They run off dittos, take care of the phones, and even water the plants.

Students in search of guidance can always turn to the guidance assistants for help. These assistants arrange guidance appointments and run errands for the counselors and secretaries. Their help is both appreciated and necessary for the smooth operation of the guidance office.

The members of the faculty sometimes find that there just aren't enough hours in the school day to complete all of the work that they must do. To preserve their sanity, teachers assistants have been created. Teacher assistants help teachers with grading papers, arranging audio-visual aids, or by tutoring students.

Have you ever wondered who spends all that time taking inventory of all that gym equipment? The hard working assistants never have to wonder, they are the ones who do the task. They also take roll for the gym teacher and sometimes take over a class.

Do you know who those silent people are who peek through the shelves in the library? These busy people are library assistants. The media center at Oxon Hill owes much of its efficiency to the indispensable library assistants. The duties of library assistants include shelving books, working the circulation desk, filing, and much more.

Clipper's

Most students will agree that one of their most treasured investments during their high school years is their yearbook. The Annual not only plays an important role at the end of the year, but its value increases with time. As members of the 78-79 Clipper's Log staff, our goal was to present an overview, not only of this year, but of the entire decade which is now approaching an end.

What will we Clipper Log staff members remember? Besides the headache of meeting deadlines and those long hours spent with cropper and quad-paks, we couldn't possibly forget: "Computers!", Oxon Hill's first yearbook slide presentation, the winter pep rally, "Millie, Millie Millie", or Mr. "Playcool's" pet rock. Of course, the success of our publication depended on the "cooperation" of everyone. Certainly nothing can compare to the feeling of satisfaction received upon seeing this finished product.

During the Seventies, creativity and self-expression have played a major part in the development of society. The Literary Magazine has provided students at Oxon Hill with an outlet for their creative skills. The Literary Magazine is published twice yearly and is open to all forms of art work. Photographers, artists, and writers can all express themselves by displaying their best works in "The Crow's Nest."

The task of informing the students and teachers of upcoming social activities and sports events is taken on by the Announcers of WOHH. The P.A. room can be a very hectic place in a high school, but our announcers always seem to start the day off with a smile. Their wit and charm are well appreciated by the entire school.

Pat Dolan, Teresa Houle, and Pam Lynn.

Freedom Of The Press

Members of the Searchlight staff edit the school paper.

The Searchlight is a monthly newspaper organized by the students. The paper reports school news and informs students of events occurring in the school and in the community. The newspaper also provides students with the opportunity to exchange ideas and opinions. The Searchlight staff's objective is to provide a more creative and informative paper which the students will use as a tool for their own advantage.

Classes

Seniors

Twelve years of schooling culminates in one joyous event known as graduation. We, the senior class of 1979, have looked forward to this event with happiness for as long as we can remember. Now that it is looming nearer, some of us will experience a tinge of sadness. When the ships on our rings change course and sail away from port, so too do our high school days. We will miss the friends, the frantic studying during lunch for the test that afternoon, and surely the building that has housed our hopes and dreams for three years. Yet, it is an exciting prospect to realize that our lives as high school graduates will begin as we venture into a new decade.

As sophomores, we displayed unusual talent and unity by being in a 3-way tie for first place in the Homecoming float contest.

During the 1977-1978 school year, we, as juniors, became even more unified under the strength of the Clipper ship. In October we received our class rings which we wore with pride in both our class and school. We took 2nd place in both the float and hall competitions during Homecoming.

Finally the 78-79 school year came and we entered Oxon Hill Senior as the 1979 Senior Class. We elected senior class officers to help and guide us through this important year as follows: President — Maryellen Kimball, Vice-President — Calvin Hawkins, Recording Secretary — Beth Tessier, Corresponding Secretary — Millie Mariano, Treasurer — John Goetze, and Historian — Kaie Fune. Homecoming for our senior year was a dream come true — the Clippers beat Friendly in the football game. The Seniors truly came alive as the best and last class to graduate from Oxon Hill in the 70's. We worked hard as a unified class during Homecoming to win the float, hall, and spirit chain competitions. In December, the senior play, "Watch the Stars", was held, The cast of seniors had fun and produced a very successful and enjoyable fund raiser for the senior class. The prom was held on May 26 at the Sheraton Park Hotel. Cole Field House at the University of Maryland housed our Commencement exercises at l0:00 a.m. on June 5, 1979. It was only after this day that we each realized that those Physics tests and English compositions were only a very small part of our lives. We will be able to search out new adventures and to explore our individual personalities in the world because we each had gained a rare thing at Oxon Hill Senior. We left our Alma Mater with pride, respect, and the quality of understanding another human being. We had gained an invaluable experience in life.

SENIORS

The 1978-1979 class officers were a great asset to the seniors. They provided unity and inspired spirit. The officers sponsored a doughnut and hot chocolate sale during the winter months as a fund raiser for the class. They also organized such senior activities as the play, prom, and graduation.

"SAIL WITH ME"

It's been so many happy years,
The day's gone by but future's here.
We're heading out to open sea,
The wind is up, Sail With Me.

We may not know each other well.
But surely we will always tell,
We'll make our path so clearly shown,
So Sail With Me, into unknown.

The class of '79 was here.
They won't forget, they'll always hear,
The footsteps of our open minds.
We'll make a place, in our time.
(79, 79, 79 in our time)

Each one of us will spread our wings.
We'll sail into our different things.
But never will we so forget,
The times we've had, we won't regret.

Other times have passed before,
But they have never opened doors.
We've opened eyes that couldn't see,
The wind is up, Sail With Me . . . Sail With Me.

Well, we'll take the giant leap,
But we have friends by our side.
And when we leave here tomorrow,
We'll have pride, deep inside.

The road of hope lies ahead,
And our class will find it's free.
Each and every one of us,
We'll find our dream . . . Sail With Me.

Juniors

The Junior class, the Class of '80 is one of great unity and determination. As last year's sophomores, they have matured and grown together as a class. Whether it be a float, a game, or a party on Friday night, the junior class is well represented.

Homecoming was an event that the juniors has anticipated since the year before. They had made a fine showing as sophomores, but now, knowing the ropes, they were out to win Spirit Week. The work involved on the float, hall decorations, and spirit chain was tremendous, but still quite enough to conquer the mighty Seniors. The juniors came in a close second in all three events.

As November rolled around, the class of '80 anxiously awaited the arrival of their class rings. A dance was sponsored to celebrate with music provided by Machine-Gun-Sly. Rings were turned, kisses were given as this year's juniors danced the night away.

In Spring the juniors prepared for their Junior Prom. Committees were formed and dues were paid. The prom a beautiful prom it was, held here at the school. The class of '80 has many ideals and goals for the future. As seniors next year, they are sure to excel.

Sophomores

As the new recruits for the Clipper ship, the Class of 1981 stood tall. Although young and new to the fast pace of Oxon Hill, the sophomores were soon right in step.

The unification process began in September with the meeting of administration and faculty. They were informed of the rules and regulations, and to familiarize themselves with the school, they were given an O.H. Handbook. From then on they were a part of the crew.

The Spirit of '81 shone through as Homecoming week arrived. Although inexperienced, the sophomores put forth great effort in all three events.

Excitement stirred as February, and the sophomore sponsored Valentine's dance approached. The Valentines dance is the main event for the sophomores and went down as a big success. Many hours of planning and arranging were spent to ensure the making of a successful dance.

Although the Class of '81 showed inexperience, they showed much potential and the upperclassmen welcomed them aboard the Mighty Clipper Ship.
